Enjoy E-Z Statement, Forget Snail Mail

You don't have to wait for your monthly credit union statement to arrive each month in the mail. Thanks to the convenience of modern technology, you can now choose to receive your account statement via e-mail. E-statements are fast, convenient and free, making it an excellent option for any household with a computer and Internet access. When you choose to receive an e-statement, a paper copy will no longer be mailed to your house. So you won't have to worry about someone stealing your statement and getting your personal information out of your mailbox.

Our e-statements are sent over a safe and secure connection to ensure the privacy of your personal information. To sign up to receive your credit union statement via e-mail, simply stop by the credit union and talk to one of our Member Service Representatives. Use the E-Statements Enrollment to sign up to receive your credit union statements electronically through ItsMe247. E-statements give you access to up to 12 months of account statements so that you can view, print, or even save them to your computer if you wish. Enjoy the ease of e-statements and forget snail mail!
